

Expert guidance on education for girls

We hope that you and your daughter have settled in to the new school year. Here at MyDaughter we have been particularly focussing on those girls making a transition - whether at junior or senior levels, sixth form or university - there's advice for all!

We're also excited to reveal the new MyDaughter Blog...read on for more!

What's new on MyDaughter?

We've added a blog feature to the MyDaughter site - where our experts will offer regular opinions and observations on education and parenting issues in the media spotlight. Recently our heads have been blogging on the following topics: Young people need adventure as well as exam results! and Boys vs girls - vive la difference!

Do you agree or disagree with their thoughts? We welcome your comments either way...

Our experts are keen to answer your questions - this month we feature two issues that will be familiar to many parents - My daughter is constantly seeking my attention! and Why does my daughter over-react to everything?

If you've got a parenting question and are looking for advice why not Ask us a question...

The first few weeks of the new school year can be a challenge for parents and daughters alike. Whether she has started school for the first time, made the leap from junior to senior school or is adapting to life in the sixth form - we've got advice for every situation.

As if there wasn't enough to worry about with exams, friendship issues and the general hormonal rollercoaster of the teenage years, there's the tricky subject of looks... Guest expert and beauty journalist Alice Hart-Davis tackles the top five face-related worries in Our beautiful teens...

School community trading online is booming and www.schoolstrader.com is the place to start. Schoolstrader has a vibrant independent section covering most independent schools across the UK. Parents, staff and alumni can trade with each other free of charge - everything from musical instruments and houses to ski gear and holiday homes. The site has appeared in The Sunday Times, and as a Top 50 website in The Daily Telegraph