

In 2024 we will present the 11th edition of the Belgravia Awards. If there's a local person or business that you think deserves recognition, please do get in touch to nominate them

WORDS: ADRIAN DAY

Once again we are calling on you to think about those people and businesses who have made and continue to make a valuable contribution to the neighbourhood, making the Belgravia community a better place to live, work and visit.

Many people and organisations deserve recognition but those worthy of note rely on members of the local community to nominate them.

Categories include Made in Belgravia, Charitable Champion and Lifetime Achievement and for next year's event we have added two new categories: Bright Young Thing, looking to celebrate a younger member of the community and the Arts Award, which seeks to put the spotlight on a person, organisation or business that contributes to our cultural wellbeing.

The awards will again take place in The Berkeley hotel's stunning ballroom, with Chelsea Barracks embracing the community that it is very much a part of and Grosvenor and The Berkeley also returning as headline sponsors.

Alexandra Haydon, incoming head of Francis Holland School, Sloane Square said: "As a school lying at the heart of the Belgravia community, Francis Holland

School, Sloane Square is delighted to once again be sponsoring the Friend of the Earth award at the prestigious Belgravia Awards.

“Environmental sustainability is a fundamental element of our ethos at FHS and we have introduced innovative schemes to reduce waste and increase green space within the school, with a view to becoming a net zero carbon school by 2030. It is an honour to be sponsoring an award for a cause that we believe in so passionately, both locally and on a global level.

“We look forward to celebrating the many amazing achievements of our friends, neighbours, parents, alumni and colleagues in the incredible neighbourhood we are so privileged to call home. Good luck to all the nominees!”

Nader Neishabouri, manager of the Jumeirah Lowndes Hotel, said: “At Jumeirah Lowndes Hotel, we are absolutely thrilled to be a sponsor of the prestigious Belgravia Awards. Belgravia is not just a location for us, it’s a part of our identity. For years, we’ve been dedicated to providing a luxurious and welcoming haven in the heart of this vibrant neighbourhood. We have seen first-hand the incredible talent, dedication and creativity that this community possesses and we believe it’s crucial to recognise and celebrate these outstanding achievements.

“Sponsoring the Belgravia Awards allows us to give back to the community that has
